MAKING WORK FLOW

Why do business with Document Logistix?

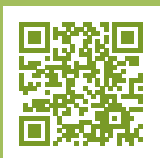

Customers select our Document Manager product because it delivers the functionality they need, is quick and simple to deploy and offers excellent value. The selection of the Company as a strategic partner is just as important as the implementation of a Document Management system in a long-term commitment. Here are some of the reasons we believe selecting Document Logistix as your supplier is the right thing to do.

Proven Experience & Expertise

Document Logistix has been providing Document Management solutions since 1996. Many of the key staff involved in the early years remain with the company, including the founders, so their technology and product knowledge is second to none.

Happy Installed Base

We have more than 400 end user organisations using our product across almost every vertical sector you could imagine. Many of our customers have been with us since we started and are still acting as reference sites today, which is indicative of the long term satisfaction we provide to our customers. We organise regular User Group meetings where our customers get together to network and share experiences, provide feedback to us and contribute to the product roadmap.

MAKING WORK FLOW

UK-Based Company

The headquarters are in Milton Keynes UK, with all operations performed from this office, including R&D, Support, Professional Services, Sales and Financial. We also have an office in Austin, Texas to support our US client base.

Scalability & flexibility

Our product can scale from small departmental systems to many hundreds of users across large organisations. Our largest customer has more than 1,000 users with 400 million documents stored in the system. Many customers start with a departmental solution and expand into different business areas owing to the product's flexibility.

The BIG small Company! – quality and agility

With approximately 35 full time UK Staff we are a large enough business to have formal working methodologies (ISO9002 registered) but small enough to be dynamic and responsive to your needs. If something is required that is not quite “out of the box”, whether it be product functionality or a commercial issue, we are usually able to provide a solution in a timely manner. We can do this because we own our Intellectual Property and have our development team in house, something many of our competitors do not.

Range of Service – end-to-end service

We can offer the full range of services needed for a total solution. We don't just develop software, we understand business process issues and design solutions to business problems. We can take you from requirements definition through to delivery, training and support. We can even provide document scanning services through our Bureau, if needed.

Constantly Evolving – innovation/product development

We constantly invest in R&D to improve the product, maintain compatibility with new technologies and trends. The product roadmap is largely driven by our customers and prospects as well as by identifying key industry trends and evolving business needs.
